

Modular Prints Agreement

This letter is about ordering modular prints (on or off frame) from Clayton Bean Station. Due to the fact that we customize homes, we typically do not have generic modular prints on hand. Due to this fact, we incur expenses from our contracted outside architect to draw up new prints. This usually averages out to around $1,500. The request for prints are normally submitted when we receive an order for a home. If you require stamped prints before actually ordering the home, we require that a deposit be taken to cover these costs in the event that the home is not ordered. Once we receive the prints from our outside engineer, we will send them to you. Please be aware that once plans for a home are submitted, no changes can be made to the home. If the customer requests changes once the plans have been submitted, an additional charge of $1,500 will be required to resubmit.

Please review this with your customer and sign both this form and a final print for the home being submitted. When we receive the plans back, we will email a copy to you.
